

Welcome to Sun Moon Apothecary LLC

We empower people to take healing into their own hands through the art of self~care and herbal remedies. Sun Moon Apothecary supports humanity to access the innate wisdom of healing alive within.

We have the ability to heal ourselves. The greatest preventative action for imbalance is to practice the art of self~care. When we confidently take healing into our own hands and hearts, miracles happen.

The art of self-care is a powerful pathway to unite spirit and body, as well as release distressing emotions and energetic blockages.

At Sun Moon Apothecary, we lovingly handcraft body wellness products designed to help women and men cultivate a deeper presence within their bodies, specializing in reproductive, sexual and sensual wellness.

Meet Emily

Sun Moon Apothecary Founder
& Reproductive Health Specialist

"My path of healing with herbs and the art of self~care began when I was initiated into a series of chronic health imbalances within my reproductive system along with spiritual and emotional distress, all of which affected my quality of life and pleasure. Through this initiation, my passion for healing ignited and I began studying women's health, herbalism, ancestral healing and womb healing. It was then that I was able to slowly heal the root causes of my imbalances through the feminine art of self~care, herbal crafting, and mending the spirit/body disconnect. I welcomed myself home to my body.

I began to notice that there were limited products available for men and women to support the practice of self~care, specifically with a focus on reproductive and sexual health. I also recognized there was a need for readily available natural remedies for chronic imbalances that actually worked! I began to develop products that had been helpful during my journey of healing as well as new products I wish had been available to me during my health challenges.

I am confident Sun Moon Apothecary's products will support everyone on their path of healing. Healing takes time and devotion. When we create space to pay attention to our bodies, bringing awareness, presence and love to ourselves, miracles happen. May Sun Moon Apothecary's products empower you to take healing into your own hands, rooting and rising in a deeper connection to self, truly uniting spirit and body to achieve a state of living in balance."
